Davis Farmers Market Food Policy/Mission

The main focus of the Davis Farmers Market is on making fresh, healthy, locally grown produce from our small-scale farmers available to the community. For the processed food items allowed in our Market we consider the following criteria:

- Fresh ingredients are in season locally.
- Fresh ingredients are purchased from farmers at the Davis Farmers Market
- Packaging and utensils
 - Produced from renewable resources
 - Free from polyethylene
 - Compostable – meeting ASTM 6400 standards for compostability
- The producer's business is small-scale and locally-based.
- Products are affordable and of high quality.
- The product is made in a commercial kitchen with a current health permit.

If your product meets these criteria and you think it would fit in well at the Davis Farmers Market, please complete the application and mail, fax or email it to:
